

Your score on this will be reflected in your quarterly Performance Rubric. If you do not complete your reflection on the project, that will also be reflected in your quarterly performance rubric

Release the Crackin' Individual Reflection

Part 7: Reflection – Type your response and attach it to this sheet, or share it with me on Google Docs (making sure to have your name and your partners' names listed). Handwritten submissions are not permitted.

- If you had another opportunity to improve your design and/or device, what would you do? (Discuss survival, cost, and performance.)
- Evaluate the performance of your design compared to your expectations. Give specific supporting details. Use specific data collected in your testing phase and how your group used that to design on the final design. (Please say more than, “We did good!”)
- If the performance score of this project was 80% of your final grade, discuss how your pre-drop processes would have changed.
- How was your individual effort overall compared to your partners and other students? Did you show ‘grit’ and persistence? Document this with specifics about your role in the group.
